

CARSON ALL RIGHT

It is Endorsed by High Heavenly Authority.

The Reno Journal contains the following:

A well known dry goods drummer of Chicago arrived in Reno yesterday from Carson.

"I learn that the journalists of Carson have started a campaign of 'education' with the view of having the university moved to their fair city," said the gentleman as he stepped off the train.

"Naturally they feel somewhat put out because the more enterprising city of Sparks is after their seat of state government."

"Sam Davis, I see, is offering a free site for the new college. Sam always had a reputation for being a wholehearted fellow, liberal to a fault, but I am willing to bet my sample case against a bogus quarter that if Sam Davis gives a site for the university that it is on land discarded even by the Indians."

"I know every foot of land owned by Davis. He's been trying to raise sagebrush on it for the past twenty years to my knowledge and thus far has not been able to support even the family cow; even now he buys hay from Washoe county. He uses it during the winter. You see during the summer time the well fertilized streets of Carson produce enough grass to feed all the cows in the valley."

During the two dozen years or more in which I have visited Nevada's capital I can truthfully say that I have not met a half a dozen Carsonites with enough life in them to know they were living."

"Their argument on this line puts me in mind of a story I heard at Battle Mountain this week. A resident of that town told it:

"Christ visited Nevada a few weeks ago, said the Battle Mountain man. 'Ely, Eureka, Falls, Battle Mountain, Sparks, Reno, Mound House and Steamboat were visited in their turn and at each place the Good Man expressed himself greatly disappointed. A resident of Steamboat advised him to try Carson. He went; immediately there was light; the old timers flocked around him. Draw closer,' called out the Ruler of the Universe, 'You are certainly My people, the same now as when I left you, two thousand years ago.'"

"It is a long story perhaps not true, but still it tells better than anything else of the conditions that exist in Nevada's capital city today."

"If the mothers and fathers of Nevada would have their loved ones drift back to a savage state and away from civilization move the university to Carson and they will certainly win out."

Very Crude Work.

Henry James, the English novelist who can cover more pages about nothing than any living novelist, is being interviewed in San Francisco. He finds fault with the telephone system which permits a writer being called out of bed in the morning in his nightie to be told by an unknown woman at the other end of the line that she likes his books.

This blushing confession on the part of James indicates that his advertising methods are very crude. He was able to work an Examiner reporter with the story however.

The Reno Journal polks fun at Carson and says that Christ came here recently, and found the people about the same as he did two thousand years ago.

When he was on the globe at that period he must have ridden into Jerusalem on the back of some ancestor of the Journal man.

The Silver State thinks that the Legislature were a little shy on railroad legislation. The Silver State was an ardent supporter of Mr. Nixon who was the agent of the railroad in Nevada. What sort of railroad legislation does the Silver State want?

Major Patton of Sparks is contemplating a scheme whereby all the Hot Springs in the State will be moved to Sparks to accommodate the barber shops of that city.

George James has gone to Goldfield where he will be employed in the plumbing business of that prosperous city.

The Gray, Reid, Wright Company will open their business to the public on Monday.

ARBOR DAY.

April 21st Named by the Governor for the Observation.

In accordance with the provisions of an act of the Nevada Legislature, approved February 10, 1887.

Friday, April 21, 1905 is hereby designated as Arbor Day.

and it is earnestly recommended that the day be observed by the people according to the provisions of the law, by planting trees, shrubs and vines, and in the adornment of private and public grounds, and by appropriate exercises and ceremonies in the public schools; provided that nothing herein shall be construed as making this a legal holiday so far as the courts and civil contracts are concerned.

This day should be observed by our people with the laudable ambition of making our homes, public grounds and highways more beautiful and attractive, not only for our own comfort and happiness, but also to give pleasure to others. Trees, shrubs and flowers are certainly to be considered emblems of culture and refinement and a source of pleasure and joy to old and young. Nevada has been considered a barren waste of mountain and desert, but with a little effort our homes may be made beautiful, and when the stranger goes to other and more favored conditions than ours, he may at least carry in memory the scenes of many comfortable and happy homes in contrast to the formerly monotonous scenery of the Sagebrush State.

Given under my hand and the Great Seal of the State of Nevada at the Capitol in Carson City, this 24th day of March, A. D. 1905.

JOHN SPARKS,

Governor.

Attest:

W. G. Douglass,
Secretary of State.

Quarantine Raised.

Drs. O'Rourke and Jacobs yesterday received official notice from the Bureau of animal industry at Washington to raise the quarantine that has been in effect on Nevada cattle for the past four years.

Hereafter cattle shipped from this state can be sent through to their destination without hindrance.

The quarantine was declared first as a result of an epidemic of Texas fever and mange among Dakota cattle. Nevada has not been effected, though it has always been necessary to have the officers examine them before they would be allowed to pass.

This action, it is thought, will add greatly to the prosperity of the cattle industry of the state and stockmen are jubilant as a result of the government's action.—Journal.

Thurtell Appointed.

Yesterday the Governor appointed Henry Thurtell of Reno, State Engineer in place of Mr. Chandler who resigned a few weeks ago. Thurtell's appointment goes into effect April first, today.

DECLARED A DIVIDEND.

THE TONOPAH MINING COMPANY

Tonopah Mining Company Starts the Record in the South.

The first substantial dividend to be declared by the mines of the south was declared yesterday when the Tonopah Mining Company of Nevada, placed a 25 cent dividend on the books. There has been a rumor to such an effect that such an action was to be made but as the same rumor has been in vogue for months and it was only speculation.

This benefit will do more for the benefit of the mines in the south than any action that has taken place since the opening of the camp. The stock took a jump a few days ago, indicating that something of this nature was about to transpire. The dividend represents a pretty tidy sum, as it is declared on 1,300,000 shares, which represents the payment of $325,000 to the lucky stockholders. As the original purchase price of the stock was but one dollar, it is a pretty fine showing, as it returns one quarter of the original purchase price, while the stock is quoted at $15 per share.

It is believed that other stocks will take an upward shoot in sympathy with the dividend.

Rush to El Dorado Canyon.

The rush for El Dorado Canyon is on. Outfits are going into the canyon from every direction. Out of Searchlight, every horse burro and available rig is pressed into service. A general merchandise store is now opened for business and two saloon licenses have been taken out. At the townsite of Nelson an ample supply of water has been developed, and lots are now on the market. There is also a local assay office.—Searchlight.

Kramer-Christian.

A. T. Kramer and Miss Nyda Christian were married last evening by Rev. Father Reynolds at his residence. Charles Graham was best man and Miss Stella James, bridesmaid. The bride is a native of this city, a graduate of the high school, of charming personality and a favorite in local society. The groom is a native of Carson.—Chronicle.

Booth to Retain Postoffice.

Tonopah citizens have prevailed on W. W. Booth to withdraw his resignation as postmaster and have agreed to make up the deficiency in the clerk hire and rent, so that Booth will draw down his full salary of $2400 a year.

The Salt Lake Herald says the bargain has practically been clinched for a railroad to connect Salt Lake and Los Angeles with the gold fields of Nevada. It is the Salt Lake road that will be the inlet to this region rich with ore. President J. R. Clark of the Salt Lake System stated that negotiations are in progress for a deal with the owners of the Death Valley Borax mines who are projecting a railroad from Soda Lake to Death Valley.

Fred McClaskey is over from Hobart Mills.

UNIVERSITY REMOVAL.

Suggestion Made by a News Correspondent.

Editor News:—There is no levity in the movement to remove the State University from Reno to Carson. It is a most serious matter. There is a condition and not a theory facing the State. The attendance at the University is rapidly falling off, in spite of the fact that it is strongly officered and strongly supported by the State. The reason for such decay can only be found in its location. The good people of Reno are just as good as any other good people. But they are victims of their prosperity, like any other people would be. It is not their fault that the town is infested with an element that no parents will permit their children to be seen by, if they can prevent it. A quiet place is the right place for a school, and a strenuous place is not.

When the structures at Reno were erected there was not enough money appropriated to do the work and the result has been a lot of petting. The buildings can be used for almost any purpose. They could be turned into a Monaco or San Carlos, where people who so feel inclined could satiate their appetite for gambling. They could be turned into hotels, Reno always being short of hotels. The State would have no difficulty of disposing of them.

The water in Carson is pure, and there are several ideal sites for the location of the University grounds and campus. Parents would feel that their children were safe from all evil influences and associations in Carson.

Building, with all modern improvements can be erected here, and a large attendance would follow.

The question, it seems to be, has recently resolved itself to a removal of the University or closing it down for want of attendance. When individuals are faced with such a condition in a mining town, they have to remove.

Fined Sixty Dollars.

RENO, March 31—L. P. Fleishman, who pleaded guilty of petty larceny in the justice court the day before, was up for sentence today. Under the circumstances and the general good name that he had borne for many years, the judge let him off with a fine of sixty dollars. The fact that the whole affair was made public and the young lady, who was the complaining witness, was satisfied, renders the sentence one of general approval.

Well Attended.

Dr. Anna M. Longshore Potts delivered a very interesting lecture to a congregation of ladies at Armory Hall yesterday afternoon.
